WELCOME TO ICIAM 2027

Dear potential sponsor,

We invite you to sponsor the 11th International Congress on Industrial and Applied Mathematics (ICIAM 2027), taking place in The Hague from 12 to 16 July 2027. This is the largest industrial and applied mathematics congress in the world, attracting over 4,000 participants from over 90 countries. Don't miss this unique opportunity to position your company or organization as a leader in the field and supporter of this key event.

The scientific program will cover a comprehensive range of applied mathematical topics, highlighting the most recent advances in the discipline and demonstrating their applicability to science, engineering and industry. In addition, the congress will emphasize industrial applications, computational science, and scientific machine learning in new and emerging topics. Industrial mathematics will be featured prominently through an integrated program highlighting the many outstanding contributions of applied mathematics. ICIAM 2027 will also be an opportunity to demonstrate to young researchers and graduate students the vast potential of mathematics and which companies and institutes are interested in this field.

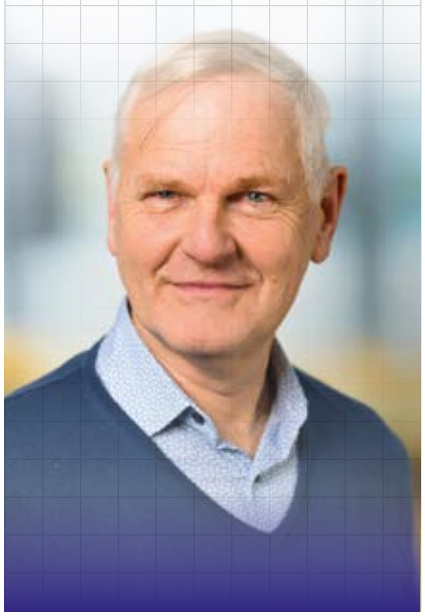

The main goals of the congress are:

> To inspire and drive innovation in mathematics and its practical applications

> To foster new initiatives in, and connections between researchers from academia and industry

> To increase visibility and exposure of industrial and applied mathematics

Each day, two lectures will be devoted to a specific applied mathematical topic and its most relevant industrial applications. In order to guarantee optimal industry participation, the congress program will be organized into special topical days, devoted to application areas of interest to a large community. There will be topical days on Energy, Life Science & Healthcare, High Tech Systems, Chemistry, and Water. At least one mini symposium will cover the topic of the day and a special mini symposium on industry will be held on Wednesday.

The Hague has a deserving reputation of prestige, stature and influence. It is a place where important matters are discussed, where decisions are made and where alliances are forged. The Hague is home to the Dutch royal family, the Parliament, Nobel-prize winning organizations, numerous international companies and is the second largest UN city. The inspiring international vibe compliments the traditional Dutch way of life which is well known for its respect for social and environmental sustainability.

ABOUT ICIAM

The International Council for Industrial and Applied Mathematics (ICIAM) is a worldwide organization for professional applied mathematics societies, and for other societies with a significant interest in industrial or applied mathematics.

Currently ICIAM has 54 member societies worldwide. The first Congress took place in Paris in 1987. Since then, congresses take place every four years, so far having been held in Washington, Hamburg, Edinburgh, Sydney, Zurich, Vancouver, Beijing, Valencia and most recently in Tokyo. The last one attracted more than 5500 delegates.

ICIAM is registered as a charitable organization in the USA. Its main objectives are:

- to promote industrial and applied mathematics internationally;
- to promote interactions between the member societies;
- to promote the goals of these member societies;
- to coordinate planning for periodic international meetings on industrial and applied mathematics.

ICIAM was created in response to the strong development of applied mathematics in the 1970s and 1980s. It was formally established in 1987 by the four societies GAMM, IMA, SIAM, and SMAI. The main activity is the ICIAM Congress which is held every 4 years. The ICIAM congress has already been held in 10 major cities in the world.

ICIAM Board

- Wil Schilders, Eindhoven University of Technology, President
- Sven Leyffer, Argonne National Laboratory, President Elect
- Suzanne Shontz, University of Kansas, Secretary
- Heike Fassbender, TU Braunschweig, Treasurer

ICIAM Partnerships

- ICIAM is a scientific partner of the Centre International de Mathématiques Purses et Appliquées (CIMPA) which co-organizes and sponsors numerous activities in developing countries, in all continents.
- ICIAM provides support for attendance at congresses in/from developing countries.
- ICIAM is a category 1 full member of the International Science Council (ISC).

ICIAM Scientific Prizes

ICIAM awards numerous major scientific prizes and these awards are presented to the recipients during the congress. ICIAM awards six major scientific prizes at the opening of the ICIAM Congresses:

- ICIAM Collatz Prize to provide international recognition to individual scientists under 42 years of age for outstanding work on industrial and applied mathematics.
- ICIAM Industry Prize to provide international recognition to scientists who have made outstanding contributions to innovative mathematical techniques with demonstrated impact in Industry.
- ICIAM Lagrange Prize to provide international recognition to individual mathematicians who have made an exceptional contribution to applied mathematics throughout their careers.
- ICIAM Maxwell Prize to provide international recognition to a mathematician who has demonstrated originality in applied mathematics.
- ICIAM Pioneer Prize for pioneering work introducing applied mathematical methods and scientific computing techniques to an industrial problem area or a new scientific field of applications.
- ICIAM Su Buchin Prize to provide international recognition of an outstanding contribution by an individual in the application of mathematics to emerging economies and human development, in particular at the economic and cultural level in developing countries.

WELCOME IN THE HAGUE

The Hague is the international city of Peace and Justice, the third largest city in the Netherlands and the only large Dutch city by the sea.

The Hague is often in the news thanks to the work of numerous international organizations and companies which headquarter here or because of the international legal cases that are tried in the many courts and tribunals, such as the International Court of Justice and the International Crime Court.

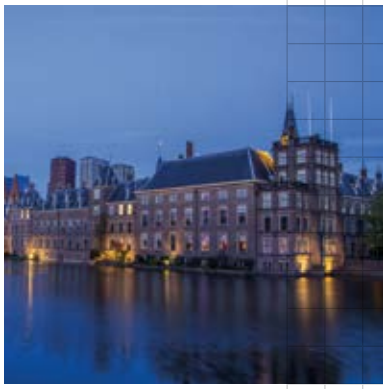

But there is more to it than that! The Hague has a deserving reputation of prestige, stature and influence. It's a place where important matters are discussed, where decisions are made and where alliances are forged. The city is home to the Dutch Royal Family, the Parliament, Nobel-prize winning organizations, numerous international companies and is the second largest UN city. All of this adds to the gravitas of The Hague.

At the same time, The Hague offers surprising and refreshing diversity. Historic and modern architecture harmoniously interlocks in the charming city centre. The inspiring international vibe complements the traditional Dutch way of living which is well known for its enormous respect for social and environmental sustainability. You might also be surprised by the city's playful side – with its promenades, bars, restaurants and a vibrant cultural scene, something that all our visitors love to discover.

Like no other city in the Netherlands, The Hague offers a unique combination of city life and beach life. Scheveningen and Kijkduin – both boast lovely wide sandy beaches that attract locals and tourists.

Since the UN hosted the first peace congress in The Hague in 1899, the city has developed an excellent event infrastructure which offers customised solutions for unique association and corporate events in The Hague.

World Forum

ICIAM 2027 will be held in the World Forum, a leading international convention centre in The Hague perfectly situated between the city centre and the beach.

World Forum successfully hosted the largest summit in the history of the Netherlands: the Nuclear Security Summit 2014 and the NATO Summit 2025. The NATO welcomed 45 heads of state, 45 defense ministers, 45 foreign ministers, 6.000 delegation members, and 2.000 (inter)national journalists. It was the first time since NATO's founding in 1949 that the Netherlands hosted a NATO summit. Important decisions were made during the summit, focusing on global peace and security.

It is through events such as these that the World Forum demonstrates that it is fully capable of hosting top-level international congresss. The venue provides a safe, secure sustainable, vital and educational environment. The World Forum has become a leading specialist in this area due to the extensive knowledge and experience it has gained in this field over the past decades.

The flexibility of its multifunctional location allows the World Forum to offer a wide variety of events. The site is also home to the Netherlands' largest theatre auditorium, where many major national and international productions are staged.
